

HAIYAN

Typhoon Haiyan, a category 5 typhoon, struck the Philippines on 8th November 2013 at 4.40am. The tropical storm originated in the northwest Pacific Ocean. It is one of the most powerful typhoons to affect the Philippines.

 314 kph
195 mph

 400mm

 7m

14.1 million

affected

6190

10k+

1.9m
homeless

600k
displaced

$5.8 billion

damage

food assistance

2.5 million

people

90%

Tacloban destroyed

1.1 million tonnes

crops destroyed

1/3

farmers & fishermen lost income

800,000 litre oil tanker leak

800,000 evacuated

1m

food packs

250k ltr water distributed

$1.5 billion

+ aid pledged